Women Voters

The CV unit of the League of Women Voters will take up "The Changing Scene at the United Nations" at its meeting Friday morning, February 15, at the home of Mrs. John Tudor, 22 La Rancheria. The League has always supported the UN, and periodically reviews its development to look for ways of promoting adequate financing, improved procedures, and increased use. At the general meeting of February 21, Dr. Louis Balsam, Professor Emeritus of Sociology at MPC, will speak on "The Human Race and the United Nations."

The Board is considering the formation of a Peninsula unit which would meet in the evening, to accommodate working women and mothers with baby-sitting problems. All women of voting age are eligible for the

The School Override Tax Story

No school district in California can levy a tax of more than $1.65 per hundred dollars of assessed property valuation, according to a law passed by the State Legislature in 1947. Since then, a special election has been required to set a higher tax rate.

Since 1947, the cost of goods and services has R I S E N, eh wot? So, 90% of California's school children now live in districts which have voted for override taxes to improve their schools.

Carmel Unified School District voted in 1958 to add 50¢ to the basic tax for a five-year period. This sum is now before the voters for a 5-year renewal. The dormitories, for which the theatre-school has felt increased need during its 3 years of operation in the Valley would be next. Dormitories and kitchen-dining facilities would entail four separate buildings connected by a wooden patio-deck, which could be the scene of much outdoor entertainment and recreation, theatre officials said. An office building with more staff residences would be located toward the front of the property, near Esquiline Rd.

The property is now zoned R-3-B-4 (multiple residential) but is surrounded by commercially zoned land. The Theatre group will apply to have the land re-zoned C-1, in order to accommodate the proposed 4-unit craft shops. Cowan School is zoned C-1 and so is the parcel at the corner of Esquiline Rd. and Carmel Valley Rd. (which would border the proposed theatre on the north,) Jack Cowan said.

Cowan was scheduled to display the architect's drawings at the luncheon meeting of the CV Chamber of Commerce at Reuben's yesterday.

The election will take place next Tuesday, February 19, from 7:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. Cards have been mailed to registered voters designating their polling place.

bits & pieces by ye Ed

Last week we asked for suggestions for long-range solutions to the occasional problems posed by the Carmel River, which affords most of the Valleyites much pleasure, both visual and recreational, most of the time. On at least 10 different times since 1895, however, it has overflowed its banks and caused damage in varying amounts. There is no reason to assume that these periodic overflows will cease simply because more people are moving here!

Since we asked for suggestions, a variety of literature, diagrams, etc., has crossed our desk--or, rather, gotten sort of bogged down in a big pile thereon.

We crave another week or two to digest the material (many far more qualified people have thrown up their hands at the whole bit) and also to correspond with the Corps of Army Engineers who, last month, were authorized by the Board of Supervisors for the third time to make a survey of the Carmel Valley River.

(Ontwo previous occasions, the Corps' ideas of what the Valley needed did not coincide with those of the residents, and proposals were overwhelmingly voted down.)

Meanwhile, more ideas and background material will be welcomed. One of the most appealing notions which has been chewed on in the past is that of a long strip of river-land to be set aside for a permanent recreation area, or park, for Valley residents. (Recent amendments to the federal Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act might actually render this possibility financially feasible through the offices of the Soil Conservation Service, provided there were concerted community co-operation.)

More anon.

Kiwanis

Assistant DA Tom Moore, speaking at Tuesday's Kiwanis meeting, drew a sharp contrast between the function of the District Attorney's office in real life as compared with that portrayed on popular TV programs. He described how the DA's office, by making a preliminary review of the officer's actions and the evidence in each arrest, served to protect citizens from unwarranted prosecution. Moore also voiced his high regard for the jury system and for jury service as representing "one of the finest duties of citizenship." The jury system, he said, "interjected humanity" and the "test of ultimate fairness" to achieve a quality of justice beyond the strictly professional or legalistic approach.

Also attending as a guest was Bob Ray, who was commended for his leadership of the local Boy Scout troop sponsored by Kiwanis. Dallas Pack, retired Army colonel and Valley resident, was inducted as a new member of the CV Kiwanis Club. A light touch was provided by the annual treasurer's report as presented by Joe (Giuseppe) Ricupero.

GRADUATION MONDAY FOR SLIPPERETTES

Slipperettes, beginners Square Dance group, will "graduate" next Monday night in the Multipurpose Room at Tularcitos School, with Art Hansford of Salinas acting as caller and CV's Archie Fleming doing the honors as Master of Ceremonies.

The graduation celebration will be held in conjunction with the regular weekly party night of Silver Slippers Square Dance Group, which has sponsored the beginners.

Bill Whitman has been appointed program chairman of Silver Slippers. The group very much enjoyed the Grove Bouncers' Hoedown last Saturday; Johnnie LeClair of Wyoming, who is a national Caller, did the calling.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP HAS NEW LEADER

Mrs. Robert Scott of Robles Del Rio has taken over the leadership of the Valley's Girl Scout Troop from Mrs. Alton McKennon who moved last month to Washington.

The troop contains about twenty fifth and sixth graders, most of whom are now working on second-class rank. Their current project is making Valentine candy for their mothers; later in the month they will be canvassing the Valley in the annual Girl Scout cookie sale.

Mrs. Scott is assisted by Mrs. June Mauzey of Ford Road, assistant leader, and Jan Jones of Robles, Senior Girl Scout. She herself is learning on the job, attending training sessions two evenings a week.

The troop plans to continue meeting through the summer, when it hopes to specialize in cookouts and overnights if some extra grown-up help can be obtained. The yearly Court of Awards when each girl receives the promotions and badges she has earned will be held in September.

Mrs. Philip Cordrey ("Tommie") says she made them out of cardboard cartons to illustrate the "Exotica Topicana" theme at the annual Beaux Arts Ball of the American Federation of Arts held last week at the County Fairgrounds. B — Party This Friday At Community Center

"They were fabulous, they were spontaneous, they really just wanted to help us in any way they could!," exulted DeeDee Gregory, president of Carmelo Parents Club, referring to the generous donation of prizes for the party tomorrow evening at the CV Community Center from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. Everybody is invited! (No admission charge.)

Merchants were being approached the length and breadth of the Valley, DeeDee said, and so far prizes had been promised by The Jewel Tree, Leavell's Wolter's, Winkler's Lapidary, Bowers Pharmacy, Valley Hills Nursery, Valley Hills Liquor Store, Carmel Rancho Pharmacy, Berg's, Sugar 'n Spice, Carmel Valley Market, Village House,

WHAT FOR?

What are the prizes for? Well, the game to be played cannot be legally mentioned in a newspaper of general circulation (!) but is otherwise really quite respectable; in fact, those who attend are being encouraged to bring their children. Older children can play the Game (?) and nursery facilities will be provided for younger members of the family.

What is the party for? Traditionally, Carmelo Parents Club each year has a fund-raising affair to buy books (which the teachers choose) for the school library.

REPORT FROM

CV Disaster Organization

by Tom Waters

Slowly, surely, and quietly progress has been made by our local Disaster Office since our last published column of some months ago.

State and County officials held their quarterly inspection of our medical supply storeroom at Tularcitos School and the replacement of aged blood-plasma was made. Prior to that, Dr. C. W. Van Horn, our medical officer, made one of his periodic check-ups.

At the Firehouse, Chip Collins again made his monthly inspection of the Riological monitoring equipment used in the detection of fall-out.

The very active Communications Division has held several meetings to further integrate their operations with the state and county facilities. Tom Bottaro and Ben Viljoen recently conducted a meeting with their staff, at which the state RACES officer, Mr. Ken Hughes, and the state Communications Division Chief, Mr. Bob Crabtree, spoke. Don Gibson, Village coordinator, attended with this correspondent, the CV Disaster Director.

It is encouraging to see the willingness with which these representatives of the State Disaster Office cooperate with us in our no-funds, non-incorporated area!

It is also encouraging to our staff to have such nice people right here in our Valley cooperating as they do: Fire Chief O. T. Valniza, Dr. Van Horn, Principal Bill Mallek, to name just a few. In this type of effort, the many problems that face us at times seem insoluble, but we continue to work at them.

In subsequent articles we shall point out some of them and ask for your suggestions and cooperation.

VILLAGE IDIOCY

Kay Kal'ikak

Naval Postgraduate School Professor JOHN SENDER, of Valle Vista Road, has a penchant for getting in the news--or in other words, is accident prone. Having run through a series of such incidents as hitting a deer on Laureles Grade (the deer departed unscathed, but his Volkswagen was demolished), being hit while parked by drunken drivers twice in a month, and having a cat which he was taking to the veterinary jump on his head--clinging thereto like mad until he demolished the "25 Mile" sign on the curves by Villa Bella Donna--he has done it again.

John stopped on the way home from his professorial duties to fill his car with gasoline. He made the mistake of dealing with a Monterey merchant, for when the bill came round it was $3.00 and John only had $2.40. Feeling that his Brooks Brothers suit Karmann Ghia and recently acquired Ph. D. would be worth the extra sixty cents, he said grandly, "I'll drop by on Monday and pay the balance." He was informed that this was not at all satisfactory, so (since his check-book was in his office) he would be granted grace to go cash a check--to return immediately with the enormous deficit.

Apparently the absent-minded professor stories are not all apocryphal. John happily went off to cash a check, then drove home and completely forgot the incident.

The next morning--Saturday--he got a call from the Monterey Police Department informing him that they had a warrant for his arrest unless he appeared immediately to settle accounts.

He sadly drove the 16 mile trip to the Monterey service station where he found the police officer actually awaiting him, paid off (with a few unkind words), and returned home. The moral, according to Professor Senger, is to deal with Valley Merchants. When they send for the Sheriff, it's a short drive down to settle up.

Here is the cat story to end all cat stories, and where else but in the Valley.... Some weeks ago

EDITH BRATTIN on Pilot Road, who is a great wildflower enthusiast called to tell me that she had found a cat perched up on a tree whilst on one of her plant hunts, and what should she do with it? I suggested putting an ad in you-know-where, which she duly did. Sure enough she was soon called by the GARDINERS of BLUE SKY LODGE whose feline it was. The cat was returned, safe and sound, and you would think that that was the end of the matter--but no...! Last week EDITH lost HER cat, a Siamese, which, judging by subsequent events, had crawled into one of the empty cars parked in her neighbor REUBEN's lot. Apparently the owners of the car must have been staying at the BLUE SKY LODGE, for the GARDINERS found the cat wandering round in their garden. THEY then put an ad in the OUTLOOK, and needless to say... who should answer it, but... Anyway, all's well that ends well, and I wonder how on earth BB is going to work out 5% of two cats, although it seems to me that stray animals get free ads now.

Did you notice the rather incongruous note in that article on the Wine and Food Society's dinner in the Jan. 12th Herald? After mentioning all kinds of glamorous food and wine from all over the world, the following item appeared: "...after that came the main course, le boeuf en buisson, prepared by MRS. ROBERT STANTON, which was wheeled into the room flaming. This masterpiece had a sauce made of shallots flown especially from Illinois... it was washed down with a corton clos du roi Prince de Merode, 1955". Do you suppose they mean Illinois, France (like Paris, Kentucky)? or do you suppose that the aforementioned shallots were hand-picked from the hedgerows by the Illinois natives wearing their colorful peasant garb?

Fatal Accident On CV Road

One of the worst automobile accidents to occur on the Carmel Valley Road in some time, happened Sunday night at 9:51 p. m. near the C.H. Stone Ranch. Cars driven by Lt. Claude Albert Clopton, First and Dolores in Carmel, and Juan Molina Castro, 1519 Mariposa, Seaside, met in a head-on collision that took the life of Nannia Mae Mac Williams, 1519 Mariposa, Seaside. Another passenger in the Castro car, Isaiah MacWilliams, 1215 35th Avenue, Meridian, Mississippi, was also critically injured.

All three men were in isolation at the Community Hospital and unable to be questioned for accident details by the CHP for 48 hours. Eighteen members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department answered the emergency alarm with their ambulance and the small fire engine that was used to remove the gasoline fire hazard from the highway. A second ambulance was called from Carmel for assistance.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Sunday, Feb. 10, 1963

Dear Editor,

Having just come home after witnessing one of the worst automobile accidents I have ever seen, an accident on Carmel Valley Road which killed one person and seriously injured three others, I decided to sit down and write this letter before I forget the immediate reaction I felt seeing those four persons lying on the road, and two completely demolished cars. It left me with this one frightening impression...that on a two lane road the law of averages says that sooner or later I am going to meet someone head on, no matter how carefully or how carelessly I drive. This beautiful winding road which we must preserve at all costs is a certain and inevitable death trap no matter how we look at it.

We responsible residents of Carmel Valley must pride ourselves on the fact that one of the lovely corners on our peaceful country road is known as "suicide curve". Now there is a title of distinction! Not many communities can boast of that!

Of course everyone knows that trees and hills and property are more important than human lives, but the question is, am I willing to be one of those unfortunate statistics? Just how many lives must be lost before someone will talk about sacrificing some of our beautiful two lane rural road for safety's sake?

Certainly a four lane highway is going to leave scars on the landscape, but the only scars I can think of now are those human scars which were acquired tonight--from which no good can come. (A surgeon must make scars, but we accept them because there was a good reason for them. Now why can't we accept a few scars in the Valley for safety's sake--or isn't that a good enough reason?)

Or are we afraid of the traffic a four lane highway might bring? Well at least it will be divided traffic--not two cars swerving and screeching their brakes to avoid a collision only to meet headon because they are on a scenic two lane road with no way out.

Someone said that a four lane highway would split the Valley in two. This, of course, is to be avoided at all costs no matter how many cars and bodies are split in the process.

Why don't we stop beating around the bush? Is safety our prime consideration or is it something else? At least we should make up our minds. If safety is our foremost consideration--then why don't we stop compounding our irresponsibility with a lot of senseless talk. LET'S BUILD A HIGHWAY BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE TO ENJOY THE SCENERY OR ANYTHING ELSE IN THE VALLEY.

Sincerely,
James W. Brock

AUTHENTIC ACCENTS NOW !

LANGUAGE LABS NOW IN USE

by Dorothy Reed

Gone, all gone, from current language teaching is "Ou est la plume de ma tante?" Modern students resemble a corps of future David Brinkleys as they sit in their individual booths, expressions tense, earphones clamped on and mikes at the ready. The instructor, on a raised platform facing a complicated console, can broadcast from three program sources at once,* using records or tapes, or speaking personally to the whole class or to a single member. He can listen to one student or to a group, and can use the equipment to tape special lessons of his own.

Installation of modern language labs was completed last month both at Carmel High School and at the Junior High. According to Warren Edwards, principal of the senior high, studies from other school systems show that students taught in such labs can attain in four years a proficiency far beyond what a traditional course would give them. The last two years supply a complete grounding in grammar and composition to supplement the conversational command achieved by the constant listening-and-repeating routine. Students respond to male and female voices, children and grown-ups, hearing a variety of acceptable accents and avoiding the intonation of a single teacher. (This reporter will never forget the shock of entering an eastern college and finding that her French as well as her English betrayed her middle western upbringing!

BOOTHS

The pleasantly neutral-colored room contains 36 high-sided booths so that listeners are screened from their neighbors but can see and be seen by the instructor. Some booths are wired for listening only, some for listening and responding, and five special booths permit the occupant to record and play back his own responses.

Dramatic rehearsals and speech therapy classes can take advantage of this arrangement, and vocalists can compare their high notes with Maria Callas or Joan Sutherland.

CARE

To safeguard the sensitive electronic mechanisms, letters have been sent to parents of all students scheduled for the lab, asking that the children be reminded to use care. In addition, each session in each booth is individually signed for, with any mis-functioning of the equipment noted.

Now a part of the program in French, Spanish, German, Latin, and shorthand, the lab is expected to contribute to literature classes by presenting recordings of poetry and plays by famous actors. The lack of distractions and the sense of immediacy created by the booth and earphone setup make it superior to ordinary phonograph lessons wherever these are used, says Mr. Edwards. In fact, he believes the only limitation on the use of the lab equipment will be in the imagination of the users.

Edwards hopes that both the summer school and the evening school will plan programs around the language lab, to increase the community's return on its substantial investment. A ten-thousand-dollar installation, the lab was half paid for by the federal government, under NDEA matching funds.

Cub Scout News

BY JEANNINE BOTTARO

Five new Den Chiefs are taking on their roles this week. Cub Scouts of Pack 76 welcomed them with loud applause when Scout Master Bob Ray introduced five of his Scouts at the Pack meeting last week. "Cubs don't grow up to be Den Mothers, but Scouts," Mr. Ray pointed out. While recognizing the value of the Den Mothers, whose job is a tremendously needed one in the lives of the family-oriented young boys, Ray said the Cubs need these young men to respect and to imitate in their job of growing into manhood.

Gary Snodgrass, serving Den 1, and Conrad Selvig, chosen by Den 3, repeated the Den Chief Pledge before the assembled Rodney Kenyon, while Mark Davis and Carl Davis won their one-year pins. Benjie Viljoen received a Bear gold arrow; both Bruce Thurston and Ross Meiklejohn were awarded Wolf gold arrows.

Mike Grove and Bruce Hill are the two new Bobcat members of the Pack who repeated their pledge to the Scout Master.

DENNERS

New Denners for their dens are Jeff Frisbie, Steve Fend, Teddy Hall, Walt Colas and Carl Davis. Assistant Denners are Steve Hohler, Robert Miller, Benjie Viljoen, Ricky Hall and Kevin Horan.

Den 5 and Den 2 were the two outstanding Dens and will carry the American Flag and Pack Flag at the March Pack meeting. Den 5 will keep the American Flag (since they won the inspection for both this month and last. These boys need some competition!) and Den 6, winners of last month's attendance, will pass the Pack Flag to Den 2. The March Pack meeting will be a special one, with the annual Blue and Gold dinner planned for that night, March 6. The dinner will be smorgasbord style with each Den bringing dishes from home. Parents and Cubs will sit down to eat at 6:30 p.m.

COMMISSIONER

Pats on the back to the Cubs, their Den Mothers, their Scout Master and their Committee members came from Glenn Salyers, new area commissioner of the Scouts. Mr. Salyers, the former neighborhood commissioner, introduced Robert (Scottie) Scott who will be taking over this important job. The role of neighborhood commissioner is that of trying to help different units with their troubles. "He isn't trying to criticize but to help," Salyers points out. His representation includes Troop 120 and Troop 140 in the Valley as well as Cub Scout Pack 76.

In his talk Mr. Salyers pointed out the importance of parent participation in Cubbing, and took the opportunity to talk about Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 14, presenting the Cub Master with posters. He praised the boys for their smart appearance, almost all boys being in full uniform at the meeting; he gave a verbal pat on the back to hard-working Cub Master Ben Viljoen, and called attention to the public relations work (gratefully acknowledged by your reporter) and praised the cooperation by the OUTLOOK, all of which makes Pack 76 a really outstanding Pack.

Den 1 concluded the Pack meeting with a skit, the boys' make-up and costumes supervised by Den Mother Mrs. Dale Kenyon. Each boy portrayed one of America's freedoms.

STRENGTHEN AMERICA

Cubs and parents. Andy Huff, Pat Waters and Rick Hermanson were introduced and were still to receive their assignments to the remaining Dens.

In the awards ceremony, Donald Avis received an especially warm hand of applause when he came forward to receive his Lion badge and three-year pin. Don will be leaving Cubs soon to join Scouting, and his achievement denotes many hours of perseverance. Tom Brunner also won special notice when he captured a two-year pin, Bear badge and gold arrow and four Bear silver arrows.

Six boys who entered the Wolf rank were Ricky Hall, Jeff Frisbie, Robby Ray, Gary Cummings, Starker White, and Stephen Van Hagen. A Bear gold arrow and a one-year pin went to

JUST FIVE MONTHS AGO, the poodle was presented to Pam in a corsage box by Ray Lugo of Pacific Grove. He was five days old (the poodle.)

The poodle has grown.

He had his first haircut last week. Ted Fenley of Suds and Scissors did the honors. Pam (who, in case anyone hasn't heard, is Miss Pamela Gamble of Carmel Valley and also Miss California) says she will NEVER have him clipped, as she wishes to maintain his present personality. Thus Mr. Fenley merely "evened up" here and there.

ALTERNATE ROUTE SUBCOMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT

Lew McCreery, chairman of the Alternate Route subcommittee established by the Carmel Valley and Mid-Carmel Valley Property Owners' Associations in their joint study of the road problem, has called a meeting of his group for 7:30 this evening at Carmelo School. The committee will study and analyze the results of the origin-destination count made of traffic on the road last month. They will then draft recommendations for alternate routes which would best accommodate the traffic pattern established by the count.

Their analysis and recommendations will go to the full POA Road Committee and to the County Road Department, after which the comments of all three groups will be available to the public.

The County Planning Commission is scheduled to act upon the proposed plan lines May 14. Property owners who have not yet seen the planlines may do so by contacting William Thorne, chairman of the Planlines subcommittee, at OL 9-2893.

C. V. YOUTH GROUP
by Roger Willis

Saturday night a movie was shown at the Youth Center. Unfortunately it was not the one that was ordered, but it was enjoyed by most of the kids. The name of the movie was "Stranger in My Arms." It was a combination love story and war story.

After the movie there was a short dance, during which I'm sorry to say not very many people danced. The Center closed at eleven.

Saturday afternoon the matinee featured "Young Daniel Boone." There was a real good turnout in spite of the bad weather. This Saturday we will be showing "The Gold Raiders" starring the Three Stooges. Show time is three to five. We hope all children will attend.

I would like to close by saying that parents are cordially invited to stop by the Youth Center at any time.

"It looks glustly in its present state, we must admit," said Mrs. Harold Willis of Carmel regarding the building which formerly housed the La Fonda restaurant and is now being moved, in 3 sections, to a lot on Bonita Way in Rancho Canada. Refurbishing this building, Mr. and Mrs. Willis feel, will afford them a much larger home (3786 sq. feet of floor space) than they could have attained otherwise. The arrival of the dismantled building has occasioned much comment in the neighborhood, so Mrs. Willis provided this sketch, showing the planned appearance of the building when finish-work is completed, in hopes of lulling the anxieties of those who will be their neighbors. Contractor Sherman LaFave, who is doing the work for the Willises, lives on the same block.

One hundred seven members and guests were present last Friday night at the Carmel Valley Gem & Mineral Society's February meeting. Bill Culver's popular quiz-display "So you think you know rocks?" stumped most examinees with, among the rocks, a piece of melted Coke bottle and a fossil clam from the Pebble Pups' recent field-trip collection. Kit Parker showed a colorful movie on "Alaska and its Natural Resources" but despite the magnificent scenery which it showed, no one seemed ready to leave Carmel Valley for life in the Forty-ninth State. The evening's program also featured Cal Keator, Ed Vanetti, Charles Underwood and Bill Culver on various lapidary subjects.

PEBBLE PUPS

There are now 28 Pebble Pups in this elementary-school-age group. Their first field trip, on February 3rd to Rancho Chupinos, was very successful, and they displayed collections from that outing at the meeting. Louise Litts' freshly-found fossils were adjudged the best individual display, for which Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean E. Litts of Rancho Rio Vista, was awarded a small book entitled "Illustrated Guide to Rocks."

Two brothers, George and Henry Leinen, were the only Pebble Pups with birthdays in February. Each received an amethyst, birthstone of the month.

DIRECTORS' MEETING AHEAD

On February 20 the Society's board of directors will meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Malcolm Bauer of Carmel, at 8 o'clock p.m. Twenty-six members are on the board.

FIELD TRIP NEWS

Dorothy Adam, field-trip chairman, reports that 35 members enjoyed a one-day field trip to Sparling Ranch, east of Hollister, on Sunday, January 13th. Charles E. Underwood led the trek to his former boyhood home in search of colorful chert, some of which resembled carnelian. Later in the afternoon, some of the group went to Anderson Dam to look for jasper, while others went to the San Benito River for more hunting.

FIELD TRIP

FEBRUARY 23 AND 24

A two-day field trip is planned for this month. Field-trippers will meet at Nipomo (near Santa Maria) in front of the Catholic Church at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, February 23rd, for a day on a nearby ranch. Scouting by Dorothy Adam has indicated that sagenite and marcosite agate are to be found. The ranch entrance fee is $2 per person per day; but results anticipated should make the fee worthwhile.

Those wishing to camp overnight may do so at the ranch at Nipomo or at the State campgrounds at Morro Bay. Those who prefer motels may find them at

MRS. BERTHA BANKER

Mrs. Bertha Banker, mother of Reginald Bennett, died at a convalescent home last Wednesday following a long illness. A Valley resident for six years, she had made her home with the Bennetts at 51 Lower Circle. Memorial services with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating Friday at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel, followed private inurnment in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Mrs. Banker, who was born June 9, 1880, had devoted much of her life to caring for foster children in her home. Anyone wishing to do so may make memorial contributions to Children's House. In addition to her son, she is survived by four grandchildren, Elaine, Julie, Ronnie, and Laura.

The CV Youth Group, to whom Reg has given so much of his time, will donate a sum from its treasury in memory of Mrs. Banker, reports Roger Willis, vice-president of the group.

Santa Maria or at Arroyo Grande.

On Sunday, February 24th, the group will return home by way of the beaches starting at Morro Bay. If the tide is right, there may be good jade at Jade Cove.

For more information about the field trip, call Lyle Winkler (OL 9-4263) or Dorothy Adam (FR 2-5663).

Out of those January doldrums we are at last! Mother Nature is awakening, dressing the fruit trees in their early spring costume of fragrant blossoms. The first of iris and other bulbs are blooming, making wonderful spots of color in what has been up to now, a rather dreary landscape. (Please, boys, don't play kickball in the daffodils.)

BOAT SHOW

Through a real downpour, we hied ourselves to (if we may quote a column a bit better known than ours) Bagdad-by-the-Bay, for the annual Sport and Boat Show. It was really fabulous--the enormous Cow Palace was literally jammed with exhibits. Ed Muniz from the Monterey Yacht Center was on hand with two of our loves, sail boats. Even if boating was not of primary interest to you, hours could be spent inspecting the camping and sports equipment.

The thing that fascinated us the most was a build-it-yourself helicopter kit. Yes, your eyes are not deceiving you, it is a one-man chopper with the bare essentials for flight. You buy the kit, put it together yourself and they maintain that you only

Parents of Carmel Junior High School will hear vice-principal Dan Yurkovich, and John Graham, counselor at Carmel High School, next Tuesday evening at 7:45 p. m. in the student activity room at the Junior High School.

Grade requirements, apprenticeships, junior colleges (both in and out of this district), state and private colleges, and local requirements for graduation will be discussed. There will be a question and answer period.

The club's Safety Chairman, Col. Arthur Black, will speak briefly on pedestrian traffic to and from the Junior High.

FIRE WORKS, DRAGONS

Tearing ourselves away from all those things we would like to have, we headed into Chinatown to observe their New Year's celebration. Along with about 125 thousand other brave but foolhardy individuals, we battled the umbrellas and a case of shattered nerves...have firecrackers always been that loud? It was a very wet and a very colorful celebration and the Chinese community of San Francisco is now happily embarked on the Year of the Hare.

Each young man above won the championship of his own particular weight-division in the wrestling matches held recently at Carmel Junior High School. One of the winners, Tim Hall of Carmel Valley, was not available to pose for his portrait.

Under the Oaks and Among the Cactus by Mildred Hattan

Mrs. Essie Brown and Mrs. Lilas Foley, formerly of Vancouver, B. C., have been houseguests for several weeks at the home of MR. and MRS. S. GORDON BROWN of Hitchcock Canyon. They are Gordon's mother and sister, respectively, and soon will move into one of the Saulsbury duplexes. They plan to become permanent residents of the Valley.

Gordon's aunt, Mrs. Duncan Hamilton, also stayed with the family in Hitchcock Canyon recently, enroute home to Vancouver following a Christmas trip to Australia.

MRS. LOUIS MOORE and MRS. THOMAS TWOHIG were among those present at a luncheon meeting held last week at the home of Mrs. William Stewart by the Lawyers' Wives of Monterey County. Mrs. Larry Horan has been secretary of the group during the past year.

More honors came to BERT HECKENLAIBLE last week when he was elected treasurer of the Monterey History and Art Association.

The cleverest Valentine in the Village is in the parking lot at the Oleander Garden Shop where ALICEMEHDY has placed a cut-out heart on each spine of a large cactus plant.

Who was that good looking gentleman seen whizzing down the C. V. Road (West), on a motorcycle, holding a little boy in front of him who was holding an enormous bouquet of acacia blossoms?

MRS. ALAN BAKER phoned to say that this column had misplaced them under a Seaside cactus when actually they have found a home among the Del Rey Oaks!

Every parent (and grandparent) in the Valley will be delighted to know that a shop featuring moderately priced clothing for girls and boys from 3-12 will open next to Wilma's Beauty Shop around the first of March. Co-partners in the latest Village venture are MRS. GEORGE (IRENE) GARNER of Laurel Dr., and MRS. DON (LORY) SWIESS of River Road. "Sugar 'N Spice" is the name that they have chosen for their business, and it also describes the beautiful merchandise that is arriving daily. Congratulations..... from our five little customers!

In San Francisco last week were MR. and MRS. LOUIS ALLAIRE and three children for the weekend wedding of Eleanor Allaire of Carmel and Ward Cullen of Palo Alto. Lou gave his sister away in a beautiful ceremony attended by 300 persons. Among them were Valleyites MR. and MRS. CHARLES ALLAIRE and four children, and MR. and MRS. FRANK ADAMS. While in the City Ruth and Lou visited former Valley residents, ZIZI and ED COYNE.

A tribute to the accomplishments and freedom of MARIAN and ALEX WEYGERS appeared last week in the Ranch and Home magazine section of the Salinas Californian. "You don't need fancy equipment if you know how to work with your hands," was a quote from Alex that seemed to best typify a pictorial coverage of the pursuit of their art, unique home, and way of life.

Another interesting newspaper story was the recent feature article in an Oregon newspaper about MRS. EUGENE BAKER's father, the late Dr. Charles V. Rugh. It was a detailed account of the historic Army "first" planned coast to coast flight that included the first trip ever flown down the Grand Canyon. A prominent member of this group of daredevils who pioneered what was to become our Air Force was a distinguished surgeon and physician, known then as "Jazz" Rugh.

Welcome home to MR. and MRS. MARK WILMOT who have been making their home in Kirby on the Illinois River in Oregon. Long time Valley residents, the Wilmots are happy to be back in the Valley with their many close friends and will stay at the Adobe Oaks until their home, presently rented, is once again available.

The Carmel Valley Garden Association has chosen IVAN MAKINSTER of Lilac Lane as General Chairman for their annual Flower and Garden Show scheduled for an ambitious TWO day run this year, May 4th and 5th. I suggest that you all go out into your gardens and have a long discussion with all those blue ribbon candidates!
